

International SIM Cards with Local Numbers

True local mobile connectivity. One contract, one bill, one currency.

Genuine local mobile plans for business teams who work, travel, or are permanently based abroad.

Why use a Local SIM?

A local SIM gives your customers a genuine in-country number, native carrier access, and the same voice and data plan a resident would have, not a roaming workaround.

- Local data and voice at local rates, not a roaming solution
- A local number that improves answer rates and professional credibility
- Built for permanent deployments or frequent travel
- SIM or eSIM setup prior to travel or deployment
- Supports in-country 2FA for identity verification of local services, for example, banking and government portals

In practice, an employee posted to Spain operates on a Spanish number and a Spanish plan. No roaming charges, no bill shock, no additional contracts.

What you get as a partner

- ✓ Incremental recurring revenue from international customer accounts
- ✓ One wholesale contract with Cellhire; one contract, one bill
- ✓ No country-specific knowledge required on your side
- ✓ Deepen relationships with international business customers
- ✓ Bring existing international accounts a local alternative to expensive roaming charges

What your customers stop dealing with

- ✗ Unpredictable roaming bills and out-of-bundle charges
- ✗ Multiple foreign operator contracts, invoices and payments
- ✗ Employees managing their own SIMs abroad with no corporate oversight
- ✗ In-country ID verification burden for permanent relocations
- ✗ Low answer rates without a local number

Wholesale Options With operator relationships around the globe, SIMsmart offers wholesale tariffs structured to fit your customers' requirements and grow with your portfolio:

- Voice & Data - local smartphone plans for permanent deployments and frequent travellers
- Data only - for data devices, backup lines, or employees maintaining a separate line for mobile data
- PPM & Data - flexible pay-per-minute for lower-usage or variable deployment scenarios

If your customers operate internationally, SIMsmart is the solution they're already looking for. One partner relationship. One contract. No complexity with incremental income from the accounts you already hold. Let's talk.
